Description :

PDF-b94ae | In a sense it is true that history should be like the law and care not afyout very small things ;concerning itself not so much with individual personality as with fundamental causes affecting the rise and fall of nations or the development of mental outlook from one age to another. But even if this be conceded, we still must not forget that the course of history is worked out by individuals, who, ... The Age of Erasmus, Lectures Delivered in the Universities, of Oxford and London (Classic Reprint)
